The short answer is no, you can't get free solar panels from the government. That being said, there are many incentives put in place by the Federal Government to help homeowners ...

Solar rebates, tax credits, sales tax exemptions and other incentives vary significantly from state to state. Arizona, Hawaii, Massachusetts, New Mexico, New York, South Carolina and ...

You'll find several types of government subsidies available if you're a homeowner looking to invest in solar energy, all aimed at making those solar installations more accessible and affordable.

When calculating your credit, you may need to subtract subsidies, rebates or other financial incentives from your qualified property expenses because they're considered a purchase-price adjustment.

States have different solar panel incentives, rebates, and more. Find your state on our interactive map and see what's available to you through local programs.

Even in states with fewer headline programs, you will often find net metering or buyback policies that help offset what your panels produce. Here is a snapshot of major state-level incentives ...
